A Day in the Life of an Intern

What You Learned: During my time at Nexus-FACTS Family Healing, I learned how to be an effective therapist and how to support people outside of immediate crisis situations. This experience allowed me to discover what therapeutic approaches work best for me and what therapeutic approaches do not align with my style.

Current role and Future Goals: I am currently serving as a Program Supervisor. This fall, I will begin my Doctor of Social Work program. Dr. Black loading!

“My internship taught me the value of meeting people where they are—not just in moments of crisis, but in their everyday challenges. That’s where meaningful growth happens.”
