

Is Your Family a Match?

Nexus-PATH Family Healing seeks a two-parent foster home for an energetic, artistic 12-year-old boy named Noah*.

A successful family for Noah will:

- Practice patience
- Provide daily structure
- Confidently advocate for the child's needs
- Work closely with providers
- Have a thorough understanding of trauma and its effects on growth and development

An active family who likes to keep busy and interact through sporting activities would be ideal. Movies, board games, and art projects are some of Noah's favorite things.

An ideal family will not have pets or young children to allow for full attention toward him. Noah does well with visual cues, such as charts and lists. A family for him should not get 'hung up' on the small stuff and be able to stick with him when he tries to challenge their commitment to him.

Noah's team would like to identify a family who can provide a structured day and support him through transitions and moments of struggle, while celebrating times of success.
