

Meet La'Myira

La'Myira is a 17-year-old who is creative, driven, kind, insightful, and smart. She enjoys hanging out with her friends, eating good food, and reading books. She takes pride in being the hair stylist for many of her friends and would love to own a hair and nail salon.

La'Myira is soft-spoken and a strong self-advocate. She says that some of her strengths and talents include talking to people and making others feel happy and being good at sports. She says she would like to feel like a kid while she still can.

La'Myira values her relationships. With her determination and the right support, La'Myira's future is bright! She is making strides in school and has been exploring future career interests in nursing and firefighting!

La'Myira is hopeful to make permanent connections with a family who will support her no matter what.
